

Rutgers Cooperative Extension’s – School Garden Teacher’s Training will be held on November 8th, 2018

Every Spring, the Master Gardener’s Helpline is flooded with calls from teachers about how to start, maintain or develop a school garden. Hearing this need from the community, the staff of Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Essex County has developed a full day of education, brainstorming and networking on November 8th, during the NJEA Teacher Convention. Affordable at $35 per person and centrally located in West Orange, plus Professional Development certificates are available upon request.

Sign up here:

<http://events.r20.constantcontact.com/register/event?oeidk=a07efmay5410e70479f&llr=kxav578ab>

Rutgers New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station (NJAES) Cooperative Extension helps the diverse population of New Jersey adapt to a rapidly changing society and improve their lives and communities through an educational process that uses science-based knowledge.

Through science-based educational programs, Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Essex County truly enhances the quality of life for residents of New Jersey and brings the wealth of knowledge of the state university to local communities.

###