Introduction

This manual includes support resources from The State of New Jersey, Essex County, Local Health Departments (LHDs), and community services. This manual should be used to assist and guide the residents of Essex County to receive the help they need. These services are needed even more during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The spread of COVID-19 has depressingly affected countywide structures and reduced the availability of resources that are crucial to helping Essex County residents. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, The New Jersey Local Information Network and Communications System (NJLINCS), has granted us with the ability to create a resource guide for Essex County residents and our LHD's.

Although all our residents need help during this time there are populations who are more vulnerable. Vulnerable populations are defined as those at greater risk for poor health status and health outcomes, experience significant disparities in life expectancy, often lack access to healthcare and social supports, and experience increased morbidity and mortality. They experience complex health needs that intersect with their social and economic conditions. This population is likely to have one or more physical/and or mental health conditions. The COVID-19 pandemic has been an uncertain and scary time for Essex County residents. This manual will be made available to everyone in Essex County and shared with LHD's. Vulnerable populations are the most at risk for serious complications and mortality if infected with COVID-19. This manual is meant to assist everyone in Essex County, but it is vital that our vulnerable populations are specially cared for during these times.
